Six more messages on this series WHOSE LIFE MATTERS... I did not plan on this but the 'need of the hour' demands that I must speak out. The danger that is in and behind the current death, destruction, crime and frenzy is deeper than ....most of the rioters even know. We can talk about the pain, injustice and the hypocritical responses that fuel the problem but if we are going to talk....we must have the freedom to put it all on the table.

At the root of all of this is a revelation of what is in and coming out of the hearts of individuals, groups, and movements. What are the motivations? Is there a dark agenda over all in the pain of this anarchy, chaos and is there a drive for regime change?

“Just in time to fill this void, two new systems of governance burst onto the world stage. These two systems – Socialism and Modern Nationalism (or just “Nationalism” from here on out) – are diametrically opposed and mutually exclusive and, because they are, they have spent the past hundred years vying – and often warring – for acceptance around the globe. With the defeat of the German Socialists in World War II and the later collapse of the Soviet Socialist empire, it was generally recognized that this battle had been won and that Socialism was, as Ronald Reagan said it should be, on the “ash heap of history.” Famed political philosopher Francis Fukuyama called it “the end of history,” in that man’s long struggle to find the best possible system of governance had finally ended with the unparalleled peace, prosperity, good health, innovation, and promise of America's Nationalist system winning out over the horrors and failures of the socialist world. Socialism is back, however, and it is once again at war against Nationalism in general and America in particular. I am of the belief that this war is going to get bloodier. If there is one thing the world should have learned at the most horrific of costs, it is that there is no appeasing Socialism. Socialism doesn't stop its invasions, oppressions, cruelties, and atrocities until it is forced to. There is no compromising with socialists. There can be no deals made with socialists and, if and when a deal is cut, socialists never intend to keep their side of the bargain."

"His intimate knowledge of American communism is hard to surpass—including its sillier and darker elements—from the nineteenth to the twentieth centuries and still today. "The CPUSA was a hotbed of sickos," Schwartz wrote to me. He quickly flags Herbert Aptheker as a dubious example. Aptheker, hailed as the "theoretician" of Communist Party USA, is infamous even among the left not only for defending the Soviet invasion of Hungary in 1956 but for molesting his daughter, Bettina. Bettina Aptheker, a well-known, open member of CPUSA, today is chair of Women's Studies at the University of California at Santa Cruz.<sup>523</sup> Divorced and now married to a woman, she applies her Marxism culturally and fights for lesbian, bisexual, homosexual, "queer," and transgender rights. Like so many classical Marxists, her radicalism became cultural and sexual. "The infamous Stalinist Herbert Aptheker systematically raped his own daughter," states Schwartz, "as did others I knew. They thought they answered to a higher morality."<sup>524</sup> Rattling off other examples, some of which will be noted in this chapter, Schwartz went on, "NAMBLA [North American Man-Boy Love Association]" .....

“The Smoke of Satan” The devil seemed to have a field day strutting through numerous pews and seminaries and clouding the minds of many ministers in the twentieth century, with ripple effects still reverberating through their churches to this day. “The smoke of Satan has entered the Church,” said Pope Paul VI in June 1972, forebodingly, in a reference to the devil’s influence at myriad levels. He was referring not necessarily to the infiltration of spies at the Vatican, though his words in retrospect seem apt, particularly regarding any smoke emanating from fires ignited by the Kremlin.<sup>518</sup> In truth, the smoke of Satan had entered many seminaries and many churches, Protestant and Catholic alike. It is hard to adequately measure the damage done. But we all know what has happened: the number of seminarians, church attendance, and the percentage of Americans and Europeans who believe in God have all plunged. By the end of the 1970s, Churchmen such as Fulton Sheen were rightly pronouncing that the culture of Christendom in the West was dead; Christianity was hanging on, but Christendom was no more. As we enter the third decade of the twenty-first century, that sad fact is abundantly clear. Of course, to lay all the reasons for this disaster at the feet of Marxism-Leninism would be a vast oversimplification—truly not giving the devil his due. The grand deceiver operates on so many levels and with such diabolical cleverness.

George Soros is 89 years old, but by gosh, before he dies, he's going to see to the internal destruction of America.

 . <sup>8</sup> None of the rulers of this age understood it, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. <sup>9</sup> However, as it is written:

“What no eye has seen,
what no ear has heard,
and what no human mind has conceived”<sup>[b]</sup>—
the things God has prepared for those who love him—

<sup>10</sup> these are the things God has revealed to us by his Spirit.

The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. <sup>11</sup> For who knows a person’s thoughts except their own spirit within them? In the same way no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. <sup>12</sup> What we have received is not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may understand what God has freely given us. <sup>13</sup> This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, explaining spiritual realities with Spirit-taught words.<sup>[c]</sup> <sup>14</sup> The person without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God but considers them foolishness, and cannot understand them because they are discerned only through the Spirit... 1 Corinthians 2

When a country is rebellious, it has many rulers, but a ruler with discernment and knowledge maintains order.

Proverbs 28

It is from what is inside the heart of a person...what that person believes, be it a worker, a father or a ruler...that is what matters. What do the mayors, governors and other political leaders believe? Why did they seek the office in the first place? Did they come with an agenda? Then that should be spelled out, researched and then decisions can be made to vote a person in..... or seek to remove them.

PART 33
SPECIAL MESSAGE TO BELIEVERS ABOUT MASS REVIVAL
WHY NOT? EPH. 3:20-21

Intro- Why Not

Quote: 'don't let the present darkness, or difficulties define the power, might and willingness of God to do His will and show His astounding miracles in the battle for the souls of everyone ...until the last day of fallen human history.'

'don't grieve or quench the Holy Spirit of God by unbelief, reluctance and fear. We are to be the powerhouse of God...driving into the next day and the rest of the future.....in His blazing presence & power'

God's presence and power are so mightily and extensively at work during revival that God accomplishes more in hours or days than usually results from years of faithful nonrevival ministry. Revival usually involves some preaching and evangelism. But revival is far more than evangelism. Man can evangelize; only God can give revival. During revival people are moved toward Christ, people who can be moved in no other way. Many prayers that have gone unanswered for years are gloriously answered.

Often the very atmosphere seems awesomely filled with God's power. Christians recognize it as the holy presence of God. Sinners feel a fearsome awareness of God's presence and their own sinfulness. God may reveal His presence in unexpected ways. Accompanying His deep work in the soul may be other surprising occurrences. There may be such a sense of God's presence and power that some people tremble. Some may be moved to weeping before God; some at times sink to the ground in physical helplessness. Others may feel almost irresistibly drawn to attend revival Duewel, Wesley L.. Revival Fire (pp. 11-12). Zondervan. Kindle Edition.

Nine "Faces" of Revival All people have the same basic facial features, yet these features are arranged differently. In a similar way, revivals display the same essential features as they reflect God's presence, yet they have different "faces"; that is, revival is expressed in different ways. The nine "faces" of revival have been described in an earlier book, Rivers of Revival(written by Elmer Towns with Neil Anderson, Regal Books, 1998; see pp. 116-17). That list of revival types, each with its characteristic focus, is worth repeating here:

- The repentance revival emphasizes a moral cleansing of individual lives and of society as a whole.
- The evangelism revival focuses on winning souls to Christ.
- The worship revival centers on magnifying God.
- The deeper life revival emphasizes the experience of God's indwelling.
- The spiritual warfare revival devotes its energies to battling Satan and the other demons.
- The Holy Spirit revival is characterized by extensive manifestations of the Spirit.
- The reconciliation revival leads to the removal of barriers to racial and ethnic harmony.
- The liberation revival focuses on gaining freedom from corporate and personal bondage to sin.
- The prayer revival displays considerable efforts at intercession and other forms of prayer. Though any given revival may manifest several of these characteristics, most revivals tend to display one trait more prominently than the others. Just as the face of a child often reflects a blending of the faces of both parents (and grandparents), so the “face” of a particular revival often reflects a blending of two or more of the revival types listed above.

THE CALL FOR RIGHTEOUS RULERS For those who have eyes to see, we as believers have the opportunity before us to take our place as leaders in this nation—right in the middle of enemy territory. The Lord says to my Lord: “Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool.” The Lord sends forth from Zion your mighty scepter. Rule in the midst of your enemies! (Psalms 110:1-2 ESV) The kind of prayer that sparks national revival starts with a righteous remnant, those who take a stand for holiness and purity before the Lord. It takes courageous men and women to stand for what is true and good and not allow threats or accusations to silence their voice, either in the secret place or in the public square. There is no true transformation without holiness and there is no cultural shift apart from the fear of the Lord. Change must first take place in our own hearts and be reflected by prayers that are effective and powerful. Those prayers, however, must go beyond personal desire to corporate agreement. And this is where our greatest challenge lies. We need to find common ground in the midst of extremist views and rhetoric so we can rise with one voice and one message. This is the only way the Ekklesia will have any Kingdom authority in the governmental sphere. As we consider the future before us, we need to have a clear vision as the Church and the task before us. Though tribulations increase around the globe, we have been given a commission. Rather than preparing to leave, we should be positioned to lead. Instead of predicting the end, we should be presenting our case. Rather than storing up provisions for fear of impending doom, we should be out in our communities releasing the clarity, purpose, and wisdom that our culture so desperately needs. Though Jesus clearly said to be ready for His return, His primary message was to preach the gospel, demonstrate the Kingdom, and bring order to the earth He gave us to steward (see Mark 16:15; Luke 4:43; Gen. 1:28). Good government rises and falls on leadership. This is true in both the sacred and secular realms. The dysfunctional leadership now in some of the highest positions of our government is, unfortunately, a reflection of the Church's fractured leadership. This is not from lack of love for God or even love for others.

Intro- Who was Judas? ....what a person hates tells you so much!

What does your tombstone say?

There was a man running and fighting for all he was worth....but there was no one there to notice and when he was asked why he was fighting so hard... what are you fighting for and what will happen when you win... he answered I don't know.

It would be so useless to live a life passionately for the wrong side, to look over your shoulder and only see the devil laughing.

For what profit is it to a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?

Jesus Matthew 16

<sup>14</sup>The blind and the lame came to him at the temple, and he healed them. <sup>15</sup> But when the chief priests and the teachers of the law saw the wonderful things he did and the children shouting in the temple courts, “Hosanna to the Son of David,” they were indignant. Matthew 2

2. DEEP INSIDE

- It is in you
- It has you ... unless you have been freed

3. HAVE YOU EVER BEEN WRONG?

<sup>8</sup> If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup> If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup> If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar and His word is not in us. 1 John 1
